YERKES CLUB
JULY 70
NOTES BY YTD

Mr. LYON G. TYLER, President of the College of William and Mary, has lately prepared and printed in the William and Mary College Quarterly a better history of the family of Armistead of Virginia than one would have thought possible. The unfortunate loss of so many of the early records of that State makes it exceedingly difficult to write the genealogy of a Virginia family with any certainty of either correctness or completeness. But it is probable that the mistakes in Mr. Lyon's work are very few indeed, though it is quite certain that the same cannot be said as to the omissions. There are lines, how many it is impossible to say, of which he was unable to obtain any record, or which could not be connected with the parent stem. The reason of my own interest in the family appears in the sixth generation. I have therefore arranged in simple genealogical shape so much of the matter in the Quarterly as was necessary for the purpose. The only additions of any importance, which I have been able to make to the work of Mr. Tyler, relate to the elder branch of the family, descendants of John Armistead of Caroline County, great-grandfather of my wife. The family sent many soldiers to the service of the Confederate States; and though it would be very pleasant to find at least one who fought in the army of the United States between 1861 and 1865, I much fear that he will be sought in vain. Fortunately the sons of the only son of the brave defender of Fort McHenry in 1814 were too young to take any part in the war against the Star-spangled Banner, which his gallantry helped to celebrate in song. If the printing of this little pamphlet shall in any way help to the preparation of a real genealogical history of the family, it will be to me a matter of great satisfaction.

ARMISTEAD FAMILY.

---

WILLIAM ARMISTEAD, founder of the principal family of the name in Virginia, ancestor undoubtedly of most* of the name in the United States, received grants of large tracts of land in Elizabeth City County in 1636 and other years, and in Gloucester County in 1651. He probably came from Yorkshire, England, where the name was a very common one. He has been thought to be the William Armistead, son of Anthony, baptized 3 August, 1610, at Kirk Deighton in Yorkshire, but of this there is no proof. It is of course possible, though it would make William Armistead a rather younger man than one would expect. Be this as it may, William Armistead with wife Anne was undoubtedly in Virginia soon after 1635. Nothing whatever is known of his life in Virginia, except that he was Vestryman of St. John's Church, Hampton, 1646. The date of his death is not on record, but he was dead in 1660. He had four children:

- i. William, who was also dead in 1660.
- ii. John. 2
- iii. Anthony. 3
- iv. Frances, who m. the Rev. Justinian Aylmer of Jamestown; second, Lieut.-Col. Anthony Elliott of Middlesex County, who d. in 1665; third, Col. Christopher Wormeley; d. 25 May, 1685.

APPENDIX.

I.

Ralph Armistead had children, whose descendants have always lived in Gloucester County, in that part which is now Mathews County. Francis Armistead of Mathews Court House wrote in 1894 that he was 84 years old, and son of Ralph Armistead, who died about 1820 aged about 65, and that his father had brothers Robert, William and John. From the parish register of Kingston in Mathews County we learn that Ralph, son of Richard and Elizabeth Armistead, was born 4 May, 1770, evidently the father of Francis. There are other entries in the register relating to this family, but not enough to establish any certain line of descent.
